ORDER:

Heard the learned counsel for the petitioners as well as the learned Government Pleader for Home.

It is stated that the 1st petitioner, who fell in love with the 2nd petitioner, married the 2nd petitioner, immediately after attaining the majority as per Hindu law on 17-01-2007 at Gurtla Pochampalli Sivalayam Temple, Medchal. After marriage, the petitioners are living as husband and wife. It is stated that though they are legally wedded couple, as the marriage is not supported by the parents of both the petitioners, at the instance of their parents, the police are interfering with their marital life. It is stated that no complaint has been lodged against them and they have not committed any offence. It is stated that without there being any complaint and without registering any cognizable offence against them, the police cannot be interfered with their peaceful marital life.

Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case, if any complaint is filed against the petitioners for any cognizable offence, said to have been committed by the petitioners, it is always open for the respondents to register a case against them and investigate into and take appropriate action. If no criminal case is pending and in the absence of any complaint alleging that the petitioners have committed any cognizable offence, the police cannot be interfered with the personal life and liberty of the petitioners.

Accordingly, the writ petition is disposed of. There shall be no order as to costs.
